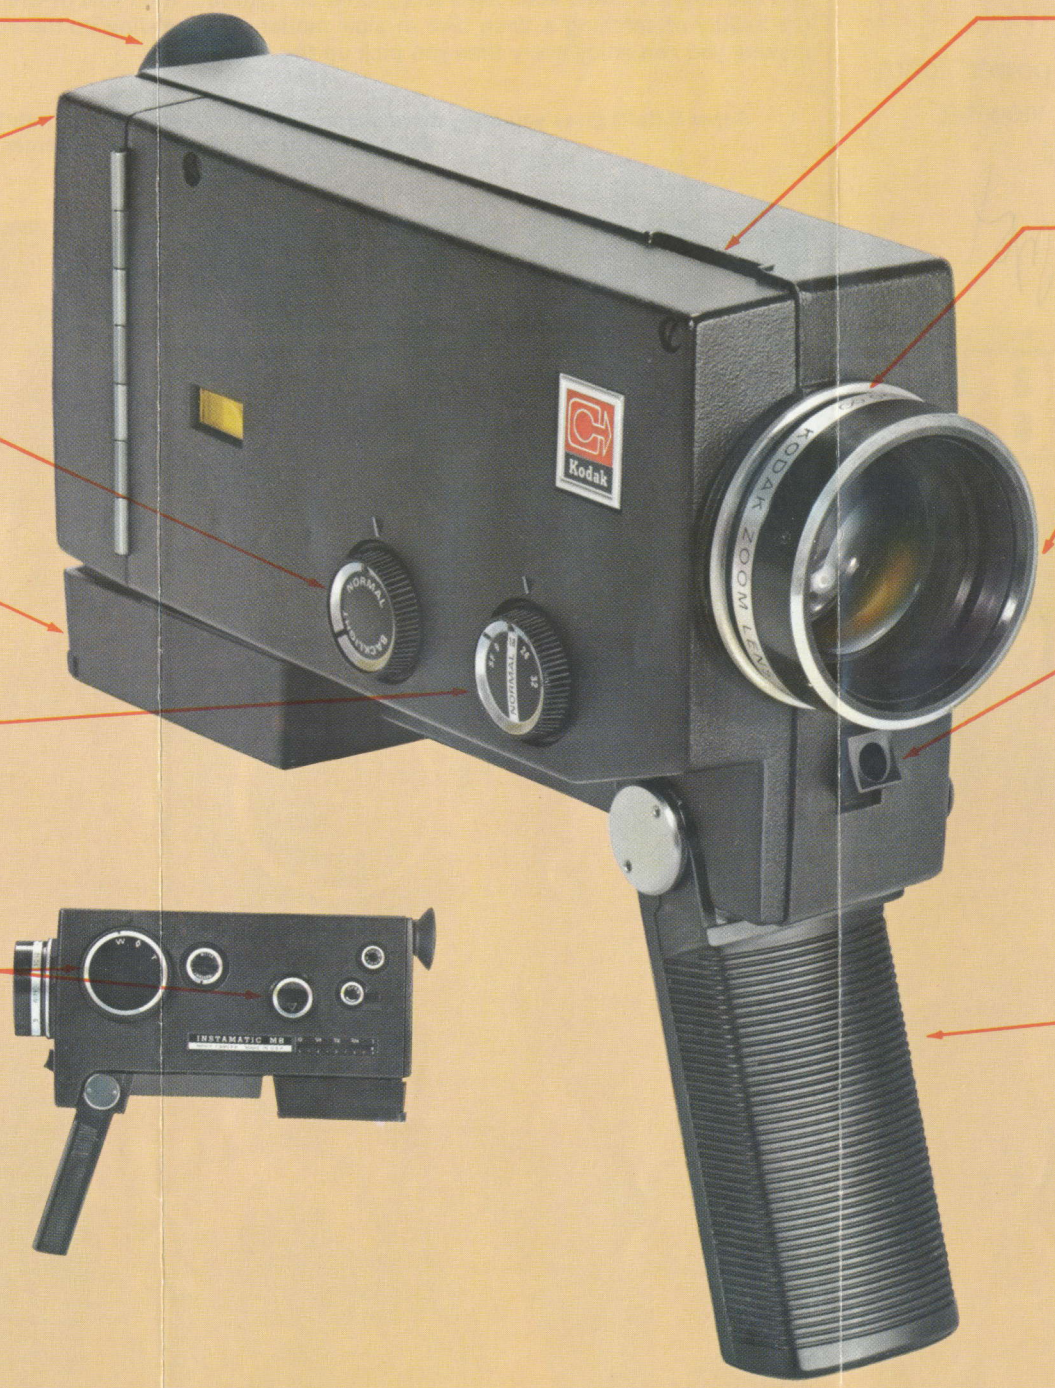
AND YOU'RE SET FOR A MOVIE-MAKING ADVENTURE

Here's a camera to stretch your movie-making imagination: the KODAK INSTAMATIC M8. Sight through the reflex finder and see how the 5-to-1 zoom lens lets you reach right into the heart of the action for a screen-filling close-up. Imagine the beauty of catching a swan dive in slow motion. Or speeding up the action for humor. This is the kind of movie-making you can enjoy every time you pick up the "M8."

Super 8 (left) gives you 50% more picture area than regular 8mm (right) for bigger, sharper movies on your screen.

KODAK INSTAMATIC M8 Movie Camera puts new creative potential in your hands



flexible eyepiece

Soft rubber eyepiece lets you snug the camera comfortably close to your eye.

reflex viewing

You view through the lens, so you see what the lens sees. No chance of chopping off a head or missing part of the action. Also visible in the finder: low-light signal, and an end-of-run signal that warns when film is about to run out. Viewfinder image can be focused to suit your eyesight.

back-light control

When your subject is lit from behind, you can get extra exposure simply by turning this dial.

battery case

Holds three AA-size alkaline batteries (extra) that power film drive. One set of batteries will expose up to 15 cartridges of film under normal conditions.

4 filming speeds

Dial any one of four filming speeds—9, 18, 24, 32 frames per second for fast, normal, or slow-motion effects. Adds an entirely new dimension to your movies. Also has single-frame exposure control which lets you do animation, titles.

power and manual zoom controls

Just push the power button while filming, and the lens zooms in or out smoothly. You can get dramatic close-ups, change perspectives, without taking a step. Turn the manual control knob to zoom at any rate or to frame scenes at any zoom setting from 9.5mm wide-angle to 45mm telephoto.

instant loading

Kodak cartridges contain 50 feet of KODACHROME II Film, Type A. Slide the cartridge into the camera instantly—no threading! You can run the full 50 feet without turning the cartridge over.

built-in type A filter

It is automatically positioned for daylight shooting when you drop in a Kodak super 8 film cartridge. Attaching movie light on top of camera removes filter for indoor shooting.

5-to-1 power zoom lens

New 12-element f/1.8 lens has zoom range from 9.5 to 45mm. Lens focuses from 4 feet to infinity to assure sharp movies at any distance. Can also be set for universal focus.

electric eye

Highly accurate CdS electric eye is located behind the lens so that it monitors only light that reaches the film. Assures accurate exposure at all filming speeds, even when you follow action from sunlight to shade.

battery-power film drive

You're always ready for action. Film is driven by battery power. You never take time out for winding. Film long sequences with no danger of slowdown in mid-action.

auxiliary battery case (not shown)

Supplied with camera. Attaches to bottom of battery case. Holds three additional batteries to provide extra power for filming at the higher speeds and in cold weather.

folding grip

Comfortable pistol grip helps make it easy to hold camera steady. Grip folds for convenient carrying and storage.
